1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-6, drawn to a method for making a mono-axially oriented draw tape, classified in class 264, subclass 291.
  - II. Claims 7-12, drawn to a mono-axially oriented draw tape, classified in class 428, subclass 409.
  - III. Claims 13-18, drawn to a system for making a mono-axially oriented draw tape, classified in class 226, subclass 108.
  - IV. Claims 19 and 20, drawn to a method of making a draw tape bag, classified in class 493, subclass 214.
  - V. Claims 21 and 22, drawn to a draw tape bag, classified in class 383, subclass 75.
  - VI. Claims 23 and 24, drawn to a system for making a draw tape bag, classified in class 493, subclass 186.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the draw tape, as claimed, can be made by another and materially different process such as a process in which a tape is formed by extruding molten material into a sheet having the width of a single draw tape, cutting the sheet into appropriate lengths, and stretching each length of tape by means of movable clamps attached to opposite ends of each length. Applicant should note that claims 7-12 are product-by-process claims that do not require the process steps, only the structure obtained by performing the process steps. The above noted process will produce the structure required by the product claims.

3. Inventions I and III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the claimed process can be performed by another and materially different apparatus such as an apparatus which includes a pair of clamps arranged to grip opposing ends of a draw tape and stretch it.

4. Inventions II and III are related as apparatus and product made. The inventions in this relationship are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the apparatus as claimed is not an obvious apparatus for making the product and the apparatus can be used for making a different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different apparatus (MPEP § 806.05(g)). In this case the claimed product can be made by another and materially different apparatus such as an apparatus which includes a pair of clamps arranged to grip opposing ends of a draw tape and stretch it.

5. Inventions IV and V are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the bag, as claimed, can be made by another and materially different process such as a process which includes positioning and attaching the tape strips relative to the bag material prior to configuring the bag material to define a bag cavity.

6. Inventions IV and VI are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process can be practiced by hand.

7. Inventions V and VI are related as apparatus and product made. The inventions in this relationship are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the apparatus as claimed is not an obvious apparatus for making the product and the apparatus can be used for making a different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different apparatus (MPEP § 806.05(g)). In this case the claimed bag can be made by another and materially different apparatus such as a pair of scissors and a heat sealing apparatus for making the bag by hand.

8. The inventions of Groups I-III and Groups IV-VI are independent of each other.

9. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

10. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
11. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
12. Any inquiry concerning this application or proceeding should be directed to Supervisory Patent Examiner, Lee Young, who can be reached on 703-308-2572.
